Investment Approach

- Fidelity® Trend Fund is a diversified domestic equity strategy with a large-cap growth bias.
- Our investment approach focuses on companies with a rate of growth that we believe has been mispriced by the market. We believe investors have a tendency to overextrapolate recent trends, which can cause equity prices to disconnect from their underlying fair values, creating investment opportunities.
- Our extensive use of both fundamental and quantitative analysis helps us to screen for stocks that seem mispriced relative to their long-term earnings-growth potential.
- We emphasize valuation in our investment process and pursue undervalued stocks with improving
